Dixie Jane Barrette received her legal education in one of the top 5 recognized law schools in the Philippines and is among the 18% of 5,984 examiners who successfully passed the Philippine's Bar Exam in 2014, recognized as one of the most prominent and most difficult government regulated exams for Philippine professionals. Admitted to the Philippine Bar in 2015, Barrette is licensed to practice before any court in that country. Barrette is fluent in Filipino/Tagalog, Cebuano and English and is currently a Juris Doctor candidate at Emory University School of Law, under the accelerated program for foreign-trained lawyers.

Barrette's experience includes handling corporate matters relating to corporate registration, compliance, and employment laws in the Philippines as well as assisting non-governmental organizations in matters involving environmental law and general litigation.

Hired after successfully navigating the internship program at Hilbert Law, Barrette is an integral member of the litigation team.
